GRAND JUBILEE !!

THERE'S VICTORY IN THE AIR!

GARFIELD THE NEXT PRESIDENT

ON SATURDAY, OCT. 16th, the Republicans of Decatur and vicinity will celebrate the glorious victory won by their brethren in Ohio and Indiana by a Torchlight Procession, Music, Bonfire on the Old Square and Speaking at the Tabernacle.

The Boys in Blue and the Boys' Garfield and Arthur Club will meet at their armory at seven o'clock, sharp, for parade. Come out and join in the festivities.

By order of COMMITTEE.

The Republicans of Wheatland township had a rousing ratification meeting and a big bonfire at Elwin last night, over the glorious victory in Indiana. It was largely attended, and the enthusiasm which followed stirring speeches by Col. Rowell and J. A. Brown ran high. There were about 300 people present. We are reliably informed that since Tuesday's elections no less than six former demonstrators in Wheatland township have renounced their allegiance to the free trade party and become members of the Garfield and Arthur Club at Elwin. Sensible men. Now is the time to "jine de band."

The "Joshua Whitcomb" party have arrived in the city, and will appear at the opera house to-night, in their great attraction. A very large number of reserved seats have been sold, and the prospects for a packed house are good. Go by all means.

The report that Bob Patterson, a former harness dealer of Decatur, had been shot and killed in Iowa, the other day, proves to be a hoax. It was a man named Patterson, but not our Bob. Glad to hear it.

FLETCHER-ULRY.

Another Decatur Disciple of "The Art Preservative of All Arts" Gone the Way of the World.

Brilliant Marriage of Mr. Chas. M. Fletcher and Miss Donna Ulry—Who Were There and a Full List of the Presents.

The stately and commodious residence of Mr. Eli Ulry, in Mt. Zion township, which is surrounded by about 3,000 acres of the finest farming land in Macon county, was brilliantly illuminated last night, and the many handsomely-furnished rooms were thronged with a happy company of invited guests, numbering nearly 150. The occasion for such a notable gathering of Decatur business men, solid farmers of the county and their families, and the youth and beauty of the city and country, was the marriage of the host's elder daughter, Miss DONNA ULRY, a graduate of Monticello Seminary, Godfrey, Ill., and Mr. CHARLES M. FLETCHER, foreman of the advertising department of H. W. Hill & Co.'s manufacturing establishment, this city, and the elder son of Mr. Samuel Fletcher. The east parlor of the residence, which with the wide hall and adjoining rooms, were completely filled with an expectant throng of guests, were very handsomely decorated with bouquets of cut flowers and festoons of pines. Suspended from the ceiling of the parlor was a large and beautiful floral anchor, and resting on the piano appeared a magnificent floral horse-shoe, the traditional emblem of "good luck."

THE CEREMONY.

Promptly at eight o'clock Prof. Goodman's superb orchestra sent forth the lively strains of Mendelssohn's wedding march. The general conversation was hushed, and the bride party descended the stairway from the upper rooms, and entered the crowded parlor, where the officiating clergyman, Elder John W. Tyron, awaited their coming. The mystic words which made Charlie and Donna husband and wife were briefly spoken, followed by a short but impressive benediction. The momentous moment past, the guests crowded forward and tendered their cordial congratulations, this proceeding, owing to the large crowd present, occupying considerable time.

The attendants were Mr. Eli Ulry, jr., brother of the bride, and Miss Anna Smith, Mr. W. S. Grubbs and Miss Gertrude Ulry, sister of the bride. The bride looked lovely in a rich cardinal and cream satin overdress, full-length train, trimmed with Spanish lace, lilies of the valley and daisies; ornaments, natural flowers. Miss Smith wore a beautiful dress of dotted Swiss, ornamented with natural flowers; Miss Gertrude Ulry was bewitchingly attired in a lovely broadcloth silk dress, puffed trimmings, natural flowers serving splendidly as ornaments. Mr. Grubbs appeared in the conventional black, and Mr. Ulry would have done likewise had he received his trunk and outfit from St. Louis.

THE WEDDING FEAST.

which followed the ceremony, was elegant and complete in every respect, embracing all the rich delicacies of the season. There was an abundance for everybody, and while the guests satisfied nature's demand, enlivening strains of soft music filled the rooms, thus adding to the pleasure of the joyous occasion. Before leaving the table each lady guest and all the "lone guests" were presented with a beautiful memento of the evening—a small piece of shapely white wood, on which was painted a rustic scene, being the artistic work of the bride's accomplished sister. Each memento was ornamented with a bow of red ribbon, and on one corner of the wood appeared the significant date, "Oct. 14, 1920."

The closing hours of the festive occasion were given up to the charming delights of dancing, in which most of the younger portion of the guests participated, and not until 1 o'clock this morning did the royally entertained company depart for the quiet of their homes, near and remote. The occasion is one that will long be remembered with the happiest recollections by all who shared in the hospitality of Mr. Ulry and family, each of whom was generous and attentive to a fault.

Mr. Fletcher and bride left for Saint Louis on the early train this morning, where they will remain until Sunday night, when they will return and reside in Decatur permanently. They are a well-matched couple, and the Republican has echoed the sentiments of their hosts of friends in Decatur and elsewhere, when we wish them endless happiness and prosperity in their new relation in life.

THE GUESTS.

Among the 150 guests present, whose names may not be given below, were: Lou and Minnie and John McDonald, Springfield; Misses Ida Beason and Pattie Pegram, and Samuel and Laura McGlumphy, Lincoln; Miss Hattie Magill, Clinton; Miss Maggie Goodbar, Memphis, Tenn.; Mrs. Chessa Jackson, Mrs. Melvina Jackson and Miss Sue Jackson, Terre Haute, Ind.; D. THE BAPTIST MINISTERS.

Annual Session of the Illinois Pastoral Union—The Proceedings Up to Noon to-day.

The Illinois Pastoral Union—an organization which has for its object the promotion of christian knowledge and love, by means of mutual intercourse and conference of ordained and licensed Baptist ministers of the state on points of professional duty—is now in annual session at the Baptist church in this city, and will complete its business this evening, when at 7 o'clock the Baptist General Association of Illinois, which organization aids in establishing Baptist churches, in building Baptist meeting houses, and sustaining a Baptist ministry on needy and promising fields, will convene and remain in session over Sunday.

At the opening of the Pastoral Union meeting last evening Rev. E. B. Hulbert, of Chicago, was elected president, and Rev. J. L. Jackson, of Aurora, Secretary. The principal services consisted of a sermon before the Pastoral Union by Dr. Hulbert, of Chicago.

After an anthem, "Fountain of Grace," finely rendered by the choir, Dr. N. A. Reed, of Amboy, read the 101st Psalm and offered prayer, supplicating a blessing on the Union, the Church and pastor, and the friends who entertain the delegates. Then followed a hymn led by the choir, after which the speaker of the evening announced his text—John, 17:17: "If any man will do his will he shall know of the doctrine." The doctor said he had been attempting to find out the meaning of these words, and would now try to make known the result of his investigation.

The pivotal point of the passage was the word will. If any man will—that is, if he is desirous, anxious, earnestly striving to do his will, etc. The text thus teaches that there is a vital connection between willing and knowing, between desiring and apprehending the truth, between righteousness and faith.

God has provided an unlimited number of truths adapted to the mind; they differ in importance. Each kind of truth is capable of proof by its own kind of evidence. God always leaves room for doubt for those who are so disposed. Briefly, the subject was well handled and engaged the closest attention of the large congregation.

The following committee on nominations was appointed: Cooley, Campbell, Darwood, Thomas and Morrill. After a hymn had been sung the benediction was pronounced by Rev. Gleason, and the Union adjourned to 9 a. m. Friday.

FRIDAY, OCT. 15.

The morning service opened at 9 a. m. with devotional services led by Rev. C. E. Taylor, of Jerseyville.

At 9:30 the pastoral union was called to order by President E. B. Hulbert, and Rev. H. T. Mason led in prayer.

On motion visiting brethren were invited to take seats in the union.

Brs. Cooley, Cheney and Roberts were appointed as a committee on selecting place of holding next annual session.

Committee on enrollment: J. W. Primam and S. Rusey.

Committee on obituaries: Buckley, Campbell, Shelton, Fails and Bester.

The report of the committee to nominate an executive committee for the year was presented, and the union elected Cheney, Van Osdel, Reed, Gleason and Howett as such committee.

Here followed a general criticism on the Rev. Hulbert's sermon delivered on last evening, in which about 25 ministers participated.

On motion the sermon was ordered printed in the Chicago papers.

Rev. F. A. Douglas spoke on the "Duties of Pastors toward
